

LYNDA
LOUDEN
INTERIORS

fig 1 posted by pouted

LLI Beautiful Interiors

October 26, 2017 #285

A Glimpse into 2018 Interiors

No one can believe it but it happens the same way every year. Time flies. So fast our heads are spinning

They say it's because we are so busy. Days are chock full of stuff to do. Which makes sense. What did we do with all our time when we were kids that made Christmas to Christmas seem like forever? Nothing but eat, sleep, play, chores and homework.

I would love more design ideas!

fig 2 Harvest Gold Trend posted by pouted

Now what are we doing? The job, after school athletic programs, Girl Scouts/Boy Scouts/ BoyGirl Scouts. Keeping a house, being neighborly, the garden, cooking or planning three meals a day. Blogging, Facebook, Maintaining our Wardrobe, Washing the cars, Fixing the cars, Paying taxes, Going to meetings, and the book club!

I've looked at 2018 trends and they say a lot but basically it's all hype. The only thing new is that old is coming back. They say that avocado green and harvest gold are making a comeback! (fig 2)

fig 3 posted by pouted

That metals are still popular, (fig 3) Brass in fact. I don't know where it went. It must be that I'm not trendy, never have been. Always relied on the classics and or what you love. How can you go wrong? But would I ever recommend an avocado fridge? I don't think so.

fig 4 by geometric wallpaper trends by pantone

We have talked about geometric wallpaper before haven't we? (fig 4) Yes I know we have and here it is! Wallpaper is Back! Apr 14 2016 BI#214

fig 5 posted by pouted

Black and white has long been classic. Classic enough to still get mentioned as trending. (fig 5) Notice the shag rug above. Another ancient that has made a marvelous comeback!

They even have the color of the year! Can you believe it? I cannot. Is this the earliest ever or am I finally on top of things? I don't know.

fig 7 by BM Color of the Year - Caliente

If this red (fig 7) doesn't make you happy what does? Maybe Sherwin Williams Color of year, Oceanside. (fig 8) Is this not a beautiful example of productive competitiveness? Tomato – Tomata

Both are bright, strong and intense. Both are showstoppers.

fig 8 by SW Oceanside

There are a lot more 'trends' to share. The only thing that knocked me outa my chair was the avocado and harvest gold.

I believe technology is where it's impossible to be ahead or on your game. Let's talk about that another Thursday.

Lynda

visit my Blog Thursdays, Saturdays & Tuesdays

see more trends and more classics

Please forward to all those who love classics.

2017 © Lynda Louden Interiors